Dear John:

What builds a great university? It starts, of course, with a vision. For more than 80 years, the University of Bridgeport has been fulfilling its vision of providing a quality education that blends a career-focused approach with opportunities for personal and professional growth. With alumni support, we continue to build on this foundation as new times and new challenges require. And I'm thrilled to report that we are making great strides.

The region has been buzzing about UB's surging enrollment, thriving academic programs, exceptional faculty, and comprehensive campus improvements. Consider just a few of these recent developments:

- In Fall 2007, we launched new Connecticut Grant programs.
- A number of our design competition winners have been awarded kitchen and bathroom renovations.
- We've launched a new exempt bond financing program for a range of other important projects and attractive investments.
- The upcoming infrastructure improvements are being integrated into a state-of-the-art campus community.

Our accomplishments and efforts are generating excitement in UB's Annual Fund and campus life. Building blocks is the Help us continue building. I urge you to continue your generous support. If you are new to the Annual Fund or have not been involved in recent years, I invite you to become a part of the excitement that is evident everywhere on our campus. On behalf of all of us at UB—students, faculty and administration—I want to extend my personal gratitude for your generosity and commitment to providing a world-class educational experience for today's—and tomorrow's—students.

Sincerely,

Neil Albert Salonen
President
